What a year! Covid hit the world hard, and Kosher establishments in the Dallas Metroplex significantly. Despite the ups and downs of 2020, Kosher Palate never missed a beat, maintaining extensive inventories of grocery, take out, and essentials for Pesach and Shavuot, Rosh Hashanah, and Sukkot (and everything in between) to ensure the Dallas Fort Worth Jewish families were looked after.

That's no surprise. Since opening their doors in 2018, owners Chaim and Miriam Goldfeder have committed themselves to serving the community. They are often the silent partners of programs such as food drives with Jewish Family Services, Moadim L'Simcha, hurricane relief in Houston, helping the needy during Covid and the list goes on.

Used to shopping in New York, New Jersey and other Jewish centers and wish you could find your favorite items locally? Just ask Miriam, chances are good that she can source whatever you need. Need to purchase case quantities? Ask Miriam, she is happy to supply your needs. No other supplier in the Dallas Metroplex offers this service.
