👉 Reminders

BeHaB begins this coming Monday, October 31st. BeHaB is a series of three fast days on the Monday, Thursday and subsequent Monday following the months of Tishrei and Nissan (BeHaB is an acronym for Beis (Monday), Hei (Thursday), Beis (Monday)). A Mi Shebeirach is recited before Mussaf this Shabbos for those who fast on these days. Many congregations recite Selichos on these days. The reasons given for BeHaB include: 1) to atone for any sins that one may have committed over Yom Tov; 2) to atone for work performed over Chol Hamoed; or 3) to strengthen the health of the body in anticipation of the change of season.

In Eretz Yisrael, V'sein Tal u'Matar is added to Bareich Aleinu starting at Maariv, Monday night, 7 Cheshvan/October 31st. Chutz La'Aretz will begin a month later, at Maariv on Monday night, December 5th. Someone traveling to or from Eretz Yisrael should seek halachic guidance.

The clocks "fall back" one hour back next Motzai Shabbos Parashas Lech Lecha, November 5th. Israel will be changing their clocks this Motzai Shabbos Parashas Noach. In the interim, the time difference between the USA and Israel will be just six hours.

The first opportunity for Kiddush Levanah is this Motzai Shabbos, Parashas Noach. The final opportunity is Tuesday, November 8, 2022 at 9:45 PM EST.

Daf Yomi: Erev Shabbos is Nedarim 3. A new masechta has just begun.

Mishnah Yomis: Erev Shabbos is Orlah 3:8-9. The Siyum is today, Mazal Tov! The next masechta is Maseches Bikkurim and is the final masechta of Seder Zeraim.

Make sure to call your parents, in-laws, grandparents and Rabbi to wish them a good Shabbos. If you didn't speak to your kids today, make sure to do the same!

📅 Next on the Calendar

The fasts/Selichos of BeHaB begin this Monday, October 31st.

Chanukah begins on Sunday Night, December 18th.

📖 Parshah in a Paragraph

Noach: Noach is righteous • Building the Teivah and gathering animals • Noach is six hundred years old when the great flood begins • Noach and family enter the Teivah • Rains fall and waters rise from the depths for forty days, covering the mountains • Everything on land is obliterated • The waters roil for 150 days, then begin to recede • The Teivah comes to rest on the Ararat mountains • The raven is sent from the Teivah • The dove is sent out twice, bringing back an olive leaf the second time • The dove is sent out a third time, and it does not return • Noach and family leave the Teivah • Noach offers sacrifices • Hashem promises to never again bring a flood • Noach and his children are now permitted to eat meat • The sign of the rainbow • Noach's planting of a vineyard and subsequent denigration • Canaan is cursed • The descendants of Noach's 3 children - 70 nations fill the earth • The tower of Bavel • Ten generations from Noach to Avram

Haftarah: The haftarah (Yeshaya 54:1-55:5) cites Hashem's promise to never again punish the world's sins by a complete Mabul-like devastation.

🕍 For the Shabbos Table

The Mabul is referred to as Mei Noach, the "waters of Noach". As Noach, in fact, was a righteous individual who in fact was spared from this great punishment, why is this great tragedy ascribed to him?

Rav Meir Zlotowitz z"l would explain: The Zohar describes the contrast between Noach and Moshe Rabbeinu. Regarding Moshe, the Pasuk refers to the salvation of Kerias Yam Suf as Moshe's accomplishment. This is due to Moshe constantly interceding on behalf of the Bnei Yisrael, going so far as offering his own life and destiny to save Klal Yisrael from destruction. In contrast, Noach failed to beseech Hashem to have mercy on mankind and save them from obliteration. On account of this failure, this tragic event is referred to as "Noach's waters". Even if the situation of a fellow Jew seems beyond hope, one should never fail to beseech our Father in Heaven on behalf of his fellow brethren, who are all Hashem's children.
